HITS HARD AT TAFT

Roosevelt's Chief Local Boomer Scores Administration.

HEADQUARTERS IS OPENED

Medill McCormick Begins Campaign by Severely Attacking the President.

Medill McCormick, formerly one of the managers of the La Follette boom, but now in charge of the Washington headquarters of the Roosevelt boom, issued last night the first manifesto of the organization which is working might and main for the re-nomination of the colonel. By a coincidence the new Taft headquarters and the Roosevelt headquarters were thrown open on the same evening, the Taft people at the Raleigh Hotel and the Roosevelt folk in the Munsey building. It was observed by the politicians that whereas Director McKinley of the Taft forces laid down as the first precept of his campaign that nothing unkind should be said about Col. Roosevelt, the opening statement of the Roosevelt management was a severe attack upon Taft and his administration.

Mr. McCormick's statement follows: "The administration has embarked upon a policy of political suicide and murder—murder if possible and suicide if necessary. In its effort to discredit the friends of Mr. Roosevelt it has sought to destroy the republicans who favor his candidacy and has cast its lot with the moribund reactionary leaders of the republic party, at the risk of losing the support of the great mass of progressive voters throughout the country."

Political Paranoia.

"Not content with viciously attacking the progressives in one speech, in another it has sought to divide the republican opposition to the President by pointing out facts with reference to Senator Cummins, Senator La Follette and Col. Roosevelt. It is not creditable that the Secretary of the Treasury could have made his laudatory speech in Washington, which was the headquarters of a vigorous effort from now on to work up sentiment for the colonel.

GITTINGS BILL AGAIN UP BEFORE ASSEMBLY

Assemblyman Cuvillier Fathers Measure to Relieve Race Track Owners.

ALBANY, N. Y., February 15.—With the name of Assemblyman Louis Cuvillier of New York attached, the bill to permit racing in New York state which was introduced by Senator Gittings last year made its appearance in the assembly yesterday. The effect of it is to free race track directors from criminal responsibility where betting is made at the tracks without their knowledge.

"It was a surprise to me," said Senator Gittings when he learned of Cuvillier's move. "I do not intend to introduce the bill in the senate, although I'll do all I can to pass it there if it comes over. I have no pride of authorship. If Cuvillier wants to take my bill and put his name on it he's welcome to it."

Senator Gittings said he believed the chances for passing the bill are as good as last year. He had apparently not taken into consideration the reported attitude of Gov. Dix. Last year the governor intimated that he wouldn't stand for any change. He is thought not to have altered his mind.

Assemblyman Cuvillier explained his reason for introducing the Gittings bill. He said numerous agricultural societies, as well as the State Senate, have adopted resolutions favoring its passage. He furthermore said he believed no set of men even race track directors, should be held responsible for violations of the law to which they are not parties or of which they have no cognizance.

Cuvillier is believed to have drawn his inspiration from an editorial appearing in Republican State Chairman Barnes' Albany paper advocating the repeal of the Algonquin law. This, too, has encouraged the race track interests to believe that with bipartisan support the bill may be jammed through the assembly.

The Rev. O. R. Miller, secretary of the New York Civic League, appeared at the capitol yesterday to fight the bill. After making a hasty perusal of the assembly he announced he didn't think it had a chance.

The Tardy Praise of Lincoln.

To the Editor of The Star:

To one who knew personally and twice voted for Lincoln, there is a pathos, I suppose, no one can understand who is under sixty about all this tardy recognition and praise of Lincoln. It comes very late, indeed. Not until he was dead, a martyr for his country, were words like these pronounced. He came to his own and his own received him not. He was truly a man of sorrows and acquainted with grief. He was without form or comeliness, and there was nothing about him which the people of his own day desired or admired. Those nearest him, like Chase, Seward and Stanton, were ashamed of his primitive manners and homely talk, and for years he was thoroughly misunderstood him as to be constantly criticizing him in public and opposing him in private. This tardy recognition is but a very common man and easily let themselves to the cabal which tried to defeat his last election in 1864, right in the heart of the nation.

This august trio nearest to him only too well represented that public opinion which expressed itself at the ballot boxes of 1860 and 1864, when he was in 1860 elected, by the skin of his teeth, and in 1864, when he was in 1864 elected, by the skin of his teeth, and in 1864, when he was in 1864 elected, by the skin of his teeth.

FIREWORKS COST $10,000.

GOING BACK TO IRELAND.

Chicago Chinese in Last Celebration of Old Calendar New Year.

CHICAGO, February 13.—Celebration of the Chinese New Year will begin here Saturday night with a display of fireworks which, it is said, will eclipse anything of the kind ever seen in Chinatown. More than $10,000 has already been subscribed for the fireworks.

Frank Moy, "mayor" of Chinatown, in applying to Mayor Harrison for a permit for the celebration, said it would be the last celebration under the old calendar, and that the 2,500 Chinese he represented were anxious to celebrate the establishment of a republic in their native land.

With the passing of the Manchurian dynasty the Chinese will adopt the Gregorian calendar. For this reason, and for the further reason that the present Chinatown is about to leave the quarters it has occupied for years, Moy said his countrymen were anxious to make the display the greatest ever undertaken.

Mr. Dowling Sells Out Best-Paying Saloon in New York.

NEW YORK, February 13.—Michael Dowling, who has been a saloonkeeper in New York nearly a generation, will retire this month to spend his declining years on a fine estate in Ireland. For the past nine years he has been the proprietor of what is known as the best-paying saloon in New York city, and when he decided to retire he had no difficulty in disposing of the good will of the business for $200,000. In addition to this substantial nest egg he will receive for life an annual rental of $25,000 for the lease of the property, which he bought years ago with his savings. The property is located in the heart of the Broadway theater and restaurant district.

"The tricks of the theatrical trade are trademarks," says George M. Cohan in a satirical article, called "Stage Traditions," in our next Sunday Magazine.
